Incident Summary: The Victim, Mr. A.H., advised patrol officers he was pumping gas at the Shell gas station at the 1900 block of E. Livingston Ave when he was approached by an unknown female asking for a ride. He initially refused but the female was insistent, so the victim relented and offered to give her a ride. He asked the female where she wanted to go but she did not provide a location. Mr. H. then drove across Alum Creek Dr to the McDonald's restaurant at the 1000 blk of Alum Creek Dr. A male suddenly appeared and pointed a gun at Mr. H. while he was stopped. Mr. H. immediately drove away and the male fired two shots at his car. Both bullets penetrated through the rear driver's door window and into the back of the driver's seat. One bullet struck victim in the right shoulder but did not penetrate his skin.

Mr. H. drove away while the female was still in the back seat. Mr. H. drove to the area of E. Main St and suddenly the female threatened him with a knife. He stopped somewhere on E. Main St and the female exited his vehicle. The victim then drove to OSU East hospital for treatment.

Det Herman attempted to interview Mr. H. at the hospital but he refused to provide any additional information.
